

Mary Beth Murphy statement

With nearly twenty years as a public school educator, I originally ran for this office because of my deeply held belief in public schools as the foundation of our democracy. And being a County Commissioner is about improving quality of life for all members of our community. In order to do this, we must not only invest in our public schools, but also improve access to healthcare and support economic development that allows all people to thrive. We have made great progress in these areas over the last four years, and there is still work to be done, which is why I am seeking re-election.
